

The ability to remain independant and not a public burden, rests on Deaf Americans to overcome our inability to use standard voice communications equipment. In this, we now have the option of video sign language communication. This is called Video Relay. THis technology, must be supported, if we are to remain independant. I ask for your support in this technology. It does mean the difference between productive contribution and being a public drain on the systems. Please support the VRS Video Relay System and video conferencing.
